

Manufacturing Chief Who Died Yesterday

ALBERT E. MAHANNAH.

A. E. MAHANNAH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Vice President Kelsey Wheel
Co. Succumbed Yesterday.

Albert E. Mahannah, 60, for the past 13 years vice-president and general manager of the Kelsey Wheel Company of Memphis, died after a long illness at his home, 1577 Carr Avenue, yesterday morning at 4:20 o'clock. Mr. Mahannah had been in failing health for some time and his last illness continued over a period of four weeks.

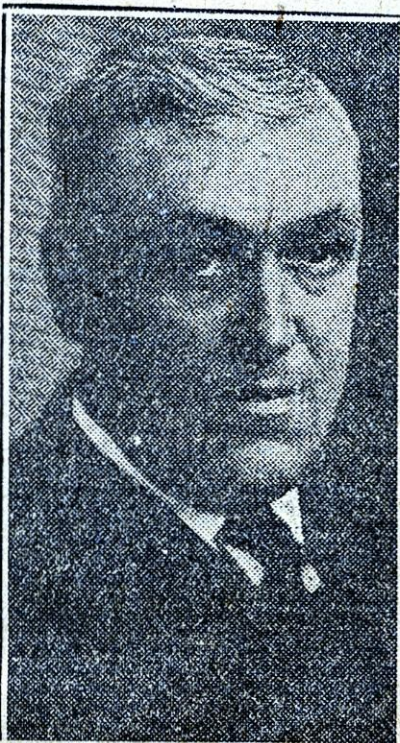

Mr. Mahannah was born and reared in Courtland, Ohio. He was educated in the elementary and preparatory schools of that city and later attended Albany College in Ohio. He afterwards became identified with the lumber industry of Marietta, Ohio, and was subsequently a resident of Brownsville, Tenn., and Lyon, Miss. Coming to Memphis from Lyon about 20 years ago, Mr. Mahannah took his place among the leading business men of the city and has been prominently identified with the growth of the lumber business in Memphis and territory, particularly referring to the wheel and spoke industry. Under his able management, the Kelsey Wheel Works have prospered and today presents itself as one of the industrial monuments of the city.

Surviving Mr. Mahannah are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Mahannah; four sons, F. R., J. C., A. A., and M. E. Mahannah; two sisters, Mrs. L. M. Post of Newton Falls, Ohio, and Mrs. C. B. Edwards of Courtland, Ohio, and one brother, T. W. Mahannah, of Courtland.

Funeral services will be held from the residence some time Tuesday. Definite arrangements had not been made last night.

MAGGIE S. EVERETT DEAD

Manufacturing Chief Who Died Yesterday

ALBERT E. MAHANNAH.

A. E. MAHANNAH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Vice President Kelsey Wheel
Co. Succumbed Yesterday.

Albert E. Mahannah, 60, for the past 13 years vice-president and general manager of the Kelsey Wheel Company of Memphis, died after a long illness at his home, 1577 Carr Avenue, yesterday morning at 4:20 o'clock. Mr. Mahannah had been in failing health for some time and his last illness continued over a period of four weeks.

Mr. Mahannah was born and reared in Courtland, Ohio. He was educated in the elementary and preparatory schools of that city and later attended Albany College in Ohio. He afterwards became identified with the lumber industry of Marietta, Ohio, and was subsequently a resident of Brownsville, Tenn., and Lyon, Miss. Coming to Memphis from Lyon about 20 years ago, Mr. Mahannah took his place among the leading business men of the city and has been prominently identified with the growth of the lumber business in Memphis and territory, particularly referring to the wheel and spoke industry. Under his able management, the Kelsey Wheel Works have prospered and today presents itself as one of the industrial monuments of the city.

Surviving Mr. Mahannah are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Mahannah; four sons, F. R., J. C., A. A., and M. E. Mahannah; two sisters, Mrs. L. M. Post of Newton Falls, Ohio, and Mrs. C. B. Edwards of Courtland, Ohio, and one brother, T. W. Mahannah, of Courtland.

Funeral services will be held from the residence some time Tuesday. Definite arrangements had not been made last night.

MAGGIE S. EVERETT DEAD