SHIP MEN MEET HERE

Masters and Pilots to Urge Maritime Interests.

SESSIONS WILL LAST A WEEK

Discussions Are Secret and for Business Purposes Only—Many "Harbors" Represented—An Appropriation of $10,000 Wanted Toward the Construction of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.

The nineteenth annual "voyage" of the American Association of Masters and Pilots of Steam Vessels began yesterday morning in the annex of the Hotel Normandie, with a full attendance of delegates. The morning session of the convention was devoted to the reception of credentials and the appointment of committees.

The representatives of the various "harbors" of this country were welcomed by Grand Captain John C. Silva and Mr. William C. Robinson, of the Washington, D. C., "harbor." The convention will remain in session all of this week, during which time many matters of maritime interest will be taken before Congress and the various government departments.

The second session convened at 3 p. m., and passed resolutions concerning the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, asking for an appropriation of $10,000 toward the enablement of an early construction of the canal. The object is to open a free deep waterway to connect Delaware and Chesapeake bays, thereby to facilitate commerce and coast defense.

At present the Delaware Canal, which was built eighty years ago, is but ten feet deep, and its locks are only twenty-four feet wide. Of all the steam sailing vessels built on the Atlantic in 1904 only five are narrow enough to pass through these locks, and the tendency now is to wider, longer, and deeper draught vessels.

The various committees met last night, and their plans were formulated for coming sessions.

The organization was formed January 17, 1887, and its members are all sturdy sons of the sea. No plan of entertainment for the delegates has been arranged, as the members are here strictly for business, and all sessions of the convention are executive.

"We are here for business," said the captain's clerk, Mr. Benjamin F. Perkins, "and what little spare time we may have will be spent individually in the departments and about the city."

In connection with the improvements, by reason of the extension, benefits were assessed by the jury as follows: Willis L. Palmer and Mattie O. White, $50; Louis P. Shoemaker, trustee, $50, in one parcel, and Louis P. Shoemaker, trustee, $100, in another parcel.

Death of Dr. W. H. Jones.

News of the death of Dr. W. H. Jones, colored, at Harrisburg, Pa., has been received by friends in this city, where he formerly resided. His death was caused by a fall received by slipping upon the pavement, when entering the capitol at Harrisburg about a week ago. The interment was at Snow Hill, Md., his old family home. Dr. Jones was educated at Howard University, and in New York at the Polyclinic Institute. After serving at Freedmen's Hospital in this city for two years he moved to Harrisburg in 1891 and entered upon the practice of his profession. Dr. Jones was engaged to marry a Miss Lewis, of this city, who was present at his deathbed.

Suit Brought Before Money Is Spent.

Beach filed the answer of the United States yesterday in the proceedings instituted in the District Supreme Court by the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company against the United States and the District of Columbia for compensation for the loss occasioned by the removal of the tracks of the company to make room for the new municipal building. The answer takes the position that $30,061 of the money claimed not having been actually paid out, the suit was prematurely brought. The amount sued for is $41,261.

Runaway Boy Anxious to Return Home.

Tired of roving, penniless, and hungry, Harry Lewis, jr., fourteen years old, who said his home was at 416 West Fifth street, Chester, Pa., walked into police headquarters last evening and asked that his parents be notified to send him money to buy a ticket to Chester. The boy was sent to the house of detention, and a telegram sent to his father. Young Lewis said he left home on Saturday, his only purpose being to see the Capitol and other points of interest in Washington. Last evening his money and enthusiasm ran out simultaneously.

FOR COLORED CATHOLICS.

New Paper Started in Interest of Negro Members of the Church.

The Colored Catholic Herald is a new candidate for journalistic favor. It is an eight-page quarto, full of live original matter pertaining to the colored people in general as they relate to the Catholic faith. Among the features is a picture of St. Augustine's Catholic Church, with its history. This church has been for years a factor in the religious life of Washington. The excellence of the music rendered by the choir with its many special features has attracted wide attention from every quarter. A history of the St. Joseph's Society, with a picture of Father Donovan, the superior, is also a feature of the first issue.

The editor of the paper, Augustine Joseph McNorton, is a young man, of literary attainments; is a convert from the Baptist faith, having been educated as a Baptist minister. He took a special course at St. Joseph's Seminary, a school at Baltimore for the education of priests for negro missions, and leaves the seminary temporarily to engage in newspaper work for the dissemination of Catholic literature among the colored people.

Edward E. Cooper, the business manager, heretofore editor and publisher of the Colored American, is associated with Mr. McNorton, and has merged the Colored American into the new enterprise. He was the founder of the Freeman, at Indianapolis, which, like the American, attained wide repute, and he is perhaps the best-known colored editor and publisher in the country.

The Colored Catholic Herald has the distinction of being the only colored newspaper published in the interests of the Catholic Church.

MARSHAL PALMER DEFENDANT.

Plaintiff in Damage Suit Alleges Wrong Execution of Writ.

United States Marshal Aulick Palmer was named as defendant in a suit filed yesterday in the District Supreme Court by Mary J. The writ of replevin out of which the suit grew was issued by Justice of the Peace Terrell on January 21, 1903, in a suit brought by John Oberlin, husband of Mary J. Oberlin, against John J. Oberlin and others. Under it, it is alleged, the marshal seized household furniture and personal effects which Mrs. Oberlin claims belong to her and not to the defendants in the replevin suit.

After a hearing before Justice Barnard and a jury in the District Supreme Court, the property was released December 7 last, on Mrs. Oberlin's claim of title. Mrs. Oberlin is represented by Attorneys Brandenburg & Brandenburg.

Amanda E. Brown Asks $30,000 for Alleged Injuries by Fall.

BELLBOYS CARRY CHAIRS.

New Fashion Inaugurated by Traveling Man in Chicago Hotel.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

REVISED BELLBOY SIGNALS AT WELLINGTON HOTEL.

One ring—One more plain chair.
Two rings—Rocking chair.
Three rings—Morris chair.
Four rings—High back leather or plush upholstered library chair.
Five rings—Chairs, more chairs, lots of chairs, of assorted shapes and sizes.

Clerk Bennett, of the Welington Hotel, had just readjusted his tie yesterday afternoon, bowed gallantly and smiled sweetly to a fair guest, shoved the register at an incoming drummer, handed out the key to 516, and in honeyed accents told an old woman guest for the "'steenth" time there was no mail for her, when two sharp rings from the call bell startled him.

With unwonted activity he glanced over a newly revised schedule of signals, and in feverish haste called out:

"Front!"

"Yessir."

"Hustle two rocking chairs up to Suite 16. Take the plush-covered one this time. He had leather the trip before."

Then he continued, addressing a young matron with a little boy:

"Yes, I can give you a fine room with bath on the third floor. Near the fire escape. Yes, of course——"

"Brrrring! Brrrring! Brrrring!"

"Front!"

"Yessir."

"Take a Morris chair to 1 J. On your way back stop at 2 B and tell that bridal couple we can't give them a library chair that will just barely hold two. Tell them I can send up an undersized divan, upholstered with bird's-egg blue, Louis XV style, or if they prefer, they can have an extra large rocker of Flemish oak."

To a dignified arrival with silk hat and three suit cases:

"Parlor and bedroom with bath, did you say? Very well, sir. I can give you just the thing you want. Quiet and comfortable. What sort of chairs do you want? Will six in the parlor and four in the bedroom be enough, sir?"

"You don't understand? Oh, I thought you were on. Latest fad started by man from Reading, Pa., to-day. N. S. Lambert is the name, I believe. Took a room, then kicked like a traveling man because there were only two chairs, insisted on having four, and then changed them every few hours because he said they soon grew uncomfortable.

"We've got to keep abreast of the times, so we have changed our bellboy signals. One bell means one more chair, and so on, as you see. If you don't like your chairs, sir, don't hesitate to ring——"

"Brrring! Brrring! Brrring! Brrring!"

"Front!"

RHEUMATISM
JOINTS AND MUSCLES SWOLLEN AND STIFF

A disease so painful and far-reaching in its effects upon the human system as Rheumatism, must have a deep and well-laid foundation. It originates and develops in the blood, and, like other diseases of the blood, is frequently inherited. The poisonous acids with which the blood is charged circulate through the system, breaking down the health, irritating the nerves, settling in joints and muscles, and causing the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to Rheumatism. Unless the blood is purified, joints and muscles become coated with the acrid matter and are rendered stiff and sore, and the nerves completely wrecked.

Columbus, O., May 30, 1903.
I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicine every week, and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I left off their medicine and began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was getting discouraged when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me, continued, and to-day am a sound, well man.
1355 Mt. Vernon Ave. R. H. CHAPMAN.

Rheumatism, being a constitutional blood disease, requires internal treatment. Liniments, plasters and such things as are applied outwardly, give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the recognized greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, and in no disease does it act so promptly and beneficially as Rheumatism, neutralizing the acids and restoring the blood to a pure, healthy condition and invigorating and toning up the nerves and all parts of the system. It is guaranteed strictly vegetable. Write us should you desire medical advice, which will cost you nothing.
